MINISTRY OF ENERGY & PETROLEUM KENYA

The Ministry of Energy & Petroleum Kenya is proud to be associated with East Africa Oil & Gas Summit (EAOGS) who have just announced the third annual summit that will be hosted here in Nairobi from the 15-17 October 2014.

Following the undoubted success of the first two editions of EAOGS in attracting international investors from around the world, the event has become a major business platform for oil and gas in East Africa where all the decision makers for the region are united in East Africa for three days' high level discussions and networking.

As we look forward to the 2014 EAOGS, we call on all our partners and investors through the East Africa region to actively participate. As the appointed organisers Global Event Partners (K) continue to grow EAOGS as the leading annual event for the oil and gas industry, more companies are encouraged to participate. I support their endeavors and look forward to fruitful deliberations at the summit where many relationships and partnerships will be formed and ideas exchanged.

We are excited about how our industry will grow over the coming year and we look forward to you all being a part of our future in helping us to develop our industry for the benefit of the people.

Yours Sincerely,

Davis Chirchir
Cabinet Secretary
